

Health Services

Salient CRGT Translates Federal Agencies' Health Services Visions into Reality

- ▶ Clinical subject matter expertise
- ▶ Health policy development
- ▶ Provider education and training
- ▶ Program and operations management
- ▶ Project management planning
- ▶ Business process reengineering
- ▶ Executive leadership support
- ▶ Communications and public affairs
- ▶ Continuous Process Improvement

We deliver the full spectrum of health services, including clinical care design, informatics, outreach and communications, research and analysis, education program design, and program management services that support our clients most vital and challenging objectives. We use proven, replicable, best-in-class processes that ensure agencies can define the most effective path to their program goals, apply the right resources at the right time to achieve those goals and account for their progress.

What We Do

Salient CRGT is involved in many facets of the Military Health System (MHS) including the development of clinical guidance, recommendations, provider, and caregiver support tools. Our unique approach entails pairing advanced, progressive clinical subject matter experts (SMEs) with seasoned project management professionals (PMPs), achieving an ideal blend of skills to accomplish multifaceted tasks. Key areas of expertise include:

- ▶ Leading expert scientific research and analysis of current clinical delivery best practices to identify trends for analysis and predictors for near-term and long-term clinical specialties and treatments
- ▶ Performing analysis essential to successful treatment for the evolving, complex injuries, and health-related conditions that our Armed Forces face in deployed settings and in new geographic war theaters
- ▶ Providing focused outreach and public affairs support, to include communications planning and measurement, media relations support, graphic design, web content management, and social media, including return on investment
- ▶ Facilitating committees and work groups developing health policy, associated protocols, presentations, peer-reviewed articles, and papers for the treatment of Department of Defense (DoD) Service members and other beneficiaries

Who We Serve

Salient CRGT's collaborative approach and balanced skill set have proven highly effective in accomplishing a wide range of common agency functions, including; health policy development and review, psychological professional support; clinical specialties and educational/training services; communications and public affairs support; management studies and analysis; program integration management and stakeholder consensus building; business process reengineering; SharePoint development; operations management; reporting and business administration; meeting and conference support services.

We've established a stellar reputation built from five core values by which we approach this work:

- ▶ Eagerness to assume critical tasks
- ▶ Emphasis on teamwork
- ▶ Flexible 'yes-first' mentality
- ▶ Commitment to peer review quality
- ▶ Unwavering focus on the mission to those we serve.

By demonstrating these values, we are able to anticipate our client's needs and outrun their vision.

Health Services

Salient CRGT's IT expertise compliments our health services work, and bridges the boundaries between functional, clinical and technical components of the health system. We provide Health IT support to a full gamut of agencies from the Defense Health Agency (DHA) to the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). Our work has established accurate and comprehensive views of patient data, and has helped the DoD and VA bridge their systems and policies to support Service members as they transition from active duty to veteran status.

Our Health Service Customers

Defense Health Agency J9 Program Management Office Support (DHA J9)

Salient CRGT provides full spectrum PMO support and clinical services for J9 including public affairs and communication services, correspondence and task management, process improvement, strategic planning, working group facilitation, human resource and facilities support and subject matter expertise in a number of clinical specialties, educational/ training services, and program management.

Psychological Health Center of Excellence (PHCoE) PH PMS

Salient CRGT delivers program management support and psychological health subject matter expertise for PHCoE with capabilities in health performance, analytics and data management, research, primary care support, clinical support, and psychological health promotion across the MHS. Our prominent health services capability is coupled with program and operational support to include program management, public affairs, and administrative support.